

tavern a short distance up the street, had windows broken by some looters.

12. A short while later I saw a police car drive by very slowly. They did not stop but drove on by.

13. About half an hour later, two police cars stopped in front of the tavern.

14. They left again after inspecting the place.

15. I couldn't sleep. Later that night, at about 2:30 AM, my daughter, Ann, told me to come to the window.

16. Eight policemen in two police cars were in front of the tavern again.

17. While we watched, we saw the policemen enter and come out with white cartons which they loaded into the trunks of their police cars. One put a box in the back seat of one of the cars too.

18. On Monday, July 17, 1967, at about 4:30-5:00PM, I was near my window, once again and saw some policemen in blue uniforms coming down Chestnut Street.

19. The police stopped outside my house. They said, "Open up here!" They kicked on the door. They entered and went to the apartment downstairs.

20. Nothing had been happening that day. There had been no shooting or looting in the neighborhood to cause the police to break in.
