Pictures #1 and #4—showing brothers and sisters supporting nationalist cooperative grocery store, DUKA UJAMAA. Pictures shown in #4, focus on nationalist leaders and ideology.

Picture #2--- Part of proposals staff checks the status of proposals sent to funding sources. It is imperative that proposal data be kept in order and current.

Picture #3-- shows front of MALIK office, displaying Pan-African nationalist leaders and ideology. Picture #5--shows advocates developing two year plan (much as our ancestors did depicted in MALIK mural) for New Ark African community.

IMAMU BARAKA teaches that, according to Honorable Sekou Toure, planning is a revolutionary concept.

Pictures #6 and #7-- show front and inside of NYUMBA YA UJAMAA (House of Cooperative Economics). NYUMBA, the only Black bookstore of its kind in New Jersey, not only brings the Pan-African/Nationalist community very badly needed information, but also financially supports the activities of CFUN as do all of CFUN's economic contributions.

Pictures #7 and #8-- show two Pan-African/Nationalist uses of the land. #7 depicts advocates at site of Kawaida Towers construction, a $8.5 million housing development. Picture #8 shows advocates working on SHAMBA MWAJANCHI (Nationalist Farm), in middle of Newark. Prior to African kuumba, land had been vacant for 3 years.
